

Jennifer Fitzpatrick

Jennifer Fitzpatrick is a genetic counsellor and Assistant Professor in the Department of Human Genetics at McGill University. She obtained her BSc in Biology from McGill and her MS in Genetic Counseling from the University of Michigan. She has worked clinically at the Hospital for Sick Children, the University of Maryland Medical Center, the Jewish General Hospital and the Montreal Children's. She is the Director of the MSc in Genetic Counselling Program at McGill and enjoys teaching and learning with students in the Faculties of Medicine, Biomedical Sciences and Law.