I graduated from McGill University in Genetic Counselling in 2006. I've been working as a genetic counsellor at Chicoutimi Hospital since that year. I work with prenatal, pediatric and adult patients. I've participated to various projects and committees since the beginning of my career. One of these projects was the development and implementation of the Quebec Ministry of Health and Social Services offering for carrier testing for 4 autosomal recessive conditions more frequent in the Saguenay-Lac-St-Jean region. I'm also part of the Chicoutimi hospital prenatal diagnosis committee since 2006.
